Challenging teenage and Young Adult Reading in the UK: the novels of Philip Reeve

Fecha
2013-12

Autor
Webb, Jean

Resumen
Challenging teenage and Young Adult reading in the UK: the novels of Philip Reeve’ (El reto para los lectores adolescentes y adultos jóvenes en Reino Unido: las novelas de Philip Reeve), es un análisis sobre los modos en que el autor –novelista galardonado–, reta a su público a pensar en los enfoques filosóficos, morales y del medio ambiente. Las obras que se examinan son Mortal Engines (2001-2006), una serie de ciencia ficción que contempla la destrucción del entorno; Here Lies Arthur (2007) y No Such Thing As Dragons (2009) que deconstruye las construcciones sobre el heroísmo en la leyenda Arturiana y los cuentos de hadas.

Key words
Philip Reeve, contemporary Young adult fiction, literary criticism, children’s literature.

URI
http://hdl.handle.net/11191/873
Statcounter 30 Best Books for Teens for Young Adults to Read Right now. Some of these novels may be on required reading lists, but they definitely won't feel like homework. By Lindsey Murray. Apr 21, 2020. Lindsey Murray. Whether your teen is a certified bookworm or a reluctant reader, everyone can benefit from diving into a good novel. Every teen girl's nightmare happens in the first book in this series: All of Lara Jean's love letters get sent to their unintended recipients – at the same time. It sends her love life into chaos in this fun romantic romp that's far more entertaining to read than it would be to experience. Simon & Schuster. In fact, young adult fiction is a multimillion pound industry these days. A brief look at the top 100 sellers at a well-known online bookshop reveals quite a healthy presence of books for teenagers. And interestingly enough, the first ebook to reach a million sales was The Hunger Games, a book aimed at 12 year olds and above. Extensive reading in the EFL classroom: a personal experience All very well and good, but how could this be made to work in the English language classroom? Most teachers would feel uncomfortable tackling these difficult subjects with students and in some countries it would be impossible to even think of doing it. The Magazine section is written especially for teenagers by young people from the UK. UK crossover novel (adult / young adult interest). Of All The Stupid Things. Alexandra Diaz. Egmont: 2010. Down to the Bone. Mayra Lazara Dole. Harper Teen: 2008. Scrivener's Moon. Philip Reeve. Marion Lloyd Books: 2011. The female protagonist falls in love with a girl in this book, having fallen in love with a boy in a previous book. *Never Mind the Goldbergs. Matthue Roth. Push: 2005. This novel has a punk-rock-loving Orthodox Jewish protagonist. Best books of all time - Read Novels Online. Userful. Best Quotes of All Time. Read novel online. Read novel online romance. NOTE. All the contents are collected from web. This study investigates the reading and library habits among teenagers in Oslo, Norway using qualitative interviews and a survey. Interviews with four girls demonstrate individual variation in their literary tastes and in the roles of reading they take on. The survey gives an overview of teenagers' library use and their literature preferences, and detects that girls and boys differ in preferences of reading media. Differences in literary tastes are also shown as gender-based. The survey indicates different patterns in reading frequency and reading materials in the sense that students from the