

A Wartime Journey: Bail-Out over Belgium, World War II

By William L. Cupp

Sunflower University Press, 2002. Paperback. Condition: New. New. "A Wartime Journey, Bail-Out over Belgium," by William L. Cupp. Nice gift for those interested in the lesser-known escape and evasion part of World War II in Europe and in the part the French and Belgian resistance played to help airmen. This book is a true account of that starts with a bombing mission by the 8th Air Force, 493rd Bombardment Group out of Norfolk, England on June 14, 1944. Bill's plane was shot down over Belgium. For eleven weeks he evaded capture, hidden by Belgian and French farmers of the Resistance. He later spent eight months at German prisoner of war camp. Cupp was a member of the Air Force Escape and Evasion Society (AFEES) and the American Ex-Prisoners of War. Despite being neutral at the start of World War II, Belgium and its colonial possessions found themselves at war after the country was invaded by German forces on 10 May 1940. After 18 days of fighting in which Belgian forces were pushed back into a small pocket in the north-east of the country, the Belgian military surrendered to the Germans, beginning an occupation that would endure until 1944. The surrender of 28 May was ordered by King Leopold III without the consultation of his government and World War II Bf110 twin engine heavy poster silk fabric cloth print wall sticker Wall Decor custom print. A wartime journey: bail-out over Belgium, World War II. 2002, Sunflower University Press. in English. We all know the story about World War II. The one about how "The Good Guys" banded together to stop Adolf Hitler and the big bad Germans (and Japanese) from taking over the world. . There is just one problem with this official version of the history-changing event known as World War II. . It's a LIE! . Can you handle the truth about what really happened? You cannot fully understand current day events until you first understand the truth about World War II. . Read the TRUE version of World War II. It is a photo-journalistic "blurb-by-blurb" chronology of what really hap on various aspects of World War II, both on the fighting front and the homefront. Replicas of posters of the war era, descriptions of battles with maps, contributions of women and minorities to the war effort, even music of the wartime era, add to this collection of resource materials useful to the classroom teacher building a unit on teaching about the U.S. involvement in World War II. The booklet was created to honor veterans of World War II, their families and those who served on the homefront. (EH).
